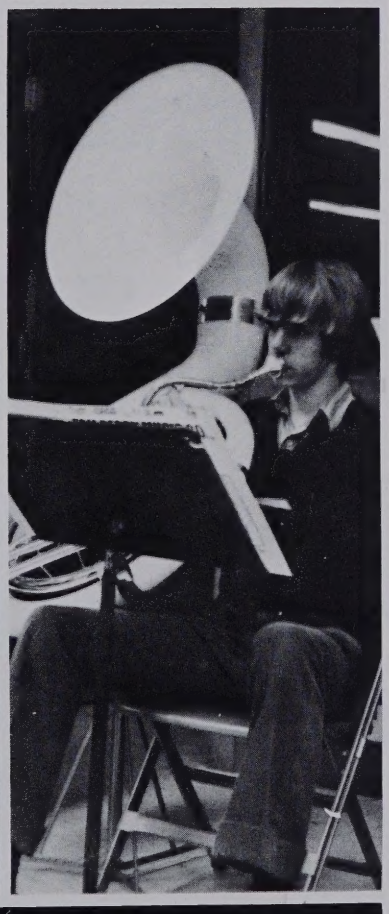
In '74



Yes, DeKalb High School
Has a time for everything.
A time to be aware of Being alive . . . . . .
A time for living
as a DeKalb Baron,
Only one in 1300.
Sweating out a test,
Facing up to a teacher
Or even the Principal.
Sometimes I feel like just Dropping all my responsibilities and daydreaming away
An entire afternoon . . .
I'd be adventurous and
Paint a red "74" in the parking lot,
Or try out for the basketball team
Even though I'm only 5'4".
Other times, I might Be my own boss and
Decide what time to go home
On Saturday night
Or whether to do my homework,
Or when to get my haircut.
I'll make decisions
And dream some dreams.
I'll use my own imagination,
Yet follow rules,
Because this is what I've found life to be
And here at DeKalb High School I've found . . .
A Time for Living.

Summer

With the sound of the last bell, summer begins. Everyone rushes into the summer ahead eager to indulge in its various activities. Taking Drivers Ed. is a big part of the summer for underclassmen. Other students are kept busy with their summer jobs working many long, hard, and hot hours.

Along with summer comes a time of relaxation. Friends try and beat the summer heat by swimming and being involved in water sports. Playing a game of tennis or just bombing around town also proves to be fun for Barons.

For many students the close of summer means the beginning of new careers and new challenges. For others it marks the return to school with the prospect of another exciting year ahead.

ENERGY CRISIS

The Energy Crisis was one of the major topics of discussion this year. With the shortages of gasoline, fuel oil, and electricity, most of the country found it had to change its life style. Gasoline was the major worry of most people because of its scarcity and its sky-rocketing price. Also, the shortage of fuel oil and the dwindling supplies of electricity threatened many northern homeowners with a long cold winter without the energy they would need to make it through.

Here at DHS the students found that coats and sweaters were often needed to keep them warm while the thermostats were turned down to sixty-eight degrees.

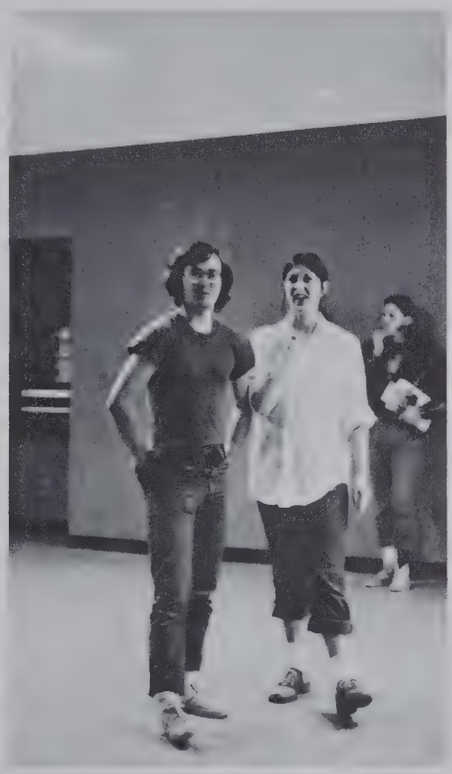
Go Mighty Barons

Spirited Baronettes proudly display their school spirit during a pep session.

Lorie Johnson cheers the team on to victory.

Nita Lundquist promotes school spirit on Crazy Hat Day. BELOW: Fans Julie Farrington and Kim Feller get all bundled up so they can back the Barons.



Reverting to the fifties, Dave Curtis and Marcia Williams enjoy taking part in the spirit producing "50's Day."

Running out of steam seems to be a BIG problem for Mr. Wyss.

Campus Life Learns Through Doing

Steve Dickman works intensely to prove his skills to his thoughtful fans.

Sheryl Wing and Brad Jennings enjoy fighting out their disputes.

ABOVE: Shela Raub thinks Campus Life is really Wild! RIGHT: "It's like this Karen," says John Goodwin, as he explains the card game to Karen Knee.

J.A.: Business in Action

Many DHS'ers are involved in the Junior Achievement program in the Auburn area. The program is composed of four companies in which the students operate. Officers are elected and a large variety of products are offered to the community. J.A. members get a better look at the world of business in action and gain many rewards they may use in the future. Some of the highlights of the year are; trade fair, the Miss J.A. contest, and the JAFE Award banquet at the end of the year. All companies in the Auburn area are sponsored by local merchants and firms. Each J.A. company is given a charter at the outset of the business year. At the end of this time, each company issues a stock report composed by its members.

As each company terminates, its members are able to evaluate their experiences in the business world.

Kathy Harkless checks for perfection.

Elaine Delbecq adds finishing touch.

Jennie Dyer really seems to enjoy the jobs of being a big business woman.

Could it be that Scott Robuck twisted Peg Troyer into joining J. A.?

Once Upon a Mattress

Homecoming 1974

Marcia Williams

Homecoming Queen
Rhonda Eldridge

Shayne Henry

At the halftime of the DeKalb vs. Northrop basketball game, Barons and fans were presented with six of the loveliest girls at DeKalb High School. As the girls and their escorts paraded onto the floor the band played the "Homecoming March" and Marshall Grate, the M. C. for the evening described each girl's general appearance and interests. Miss Rhonda Eldridge escorted by Dave Gallagher, was crowned Homecoming Queen of 1974 by last year's Queen, Janet Grate. Her Court included Senior attendants Marcia Williams escorted by Pete Smith, and Shayne Henry escorted by Mike Gerig. Representing the Junior class was Carla Baker and her escort was Mick Gallagher. Julie Dunn was the Sophomore attendant to the Queen and was escorted by Steve Butler. The Freshman class was represented by Mary Mettert who was escorted by Bret Hall. Following the game, an informal dance was held in the gymnasium in honor of Queen Rhonda, her Court, and alumnae.

Carla Thomas and Bob MacDonald enjoy each other's company at the formal.

These sophomore boys take time out for punch and discussion.

"Nights in White Satin" was the name chosen for the 1973 Christmas Formal. Margie Klink was crowned Queen with Bev Wurm and Julie Duncan serving in her court. Queen Margie's escort was Bill Heimach and Bev's escort was Kurt Brace. Junior attendant, Julie, was escorted by Dave Chalfant.

The Christmas spirit was captured by "Arlington Park" who provided the music. Also, all couples were asked to bring a gift for a needy child in the area. The gifts were put under the Christmas tree and then distributed on Christmas Eve. The dance was sponsored and decorated by Tri-Hi-Y.

Dance to the Music

Julie Brace enjoys "jivin" to the music during a victory dance.

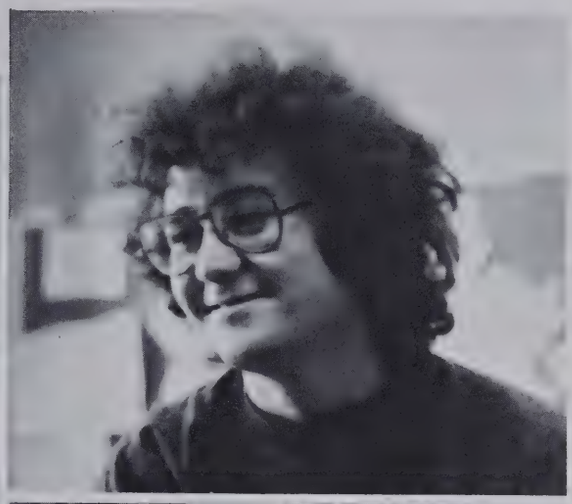
Carol Warstler gets "into the swing of things" at an aftergame dance as she does the one-eyed polka.

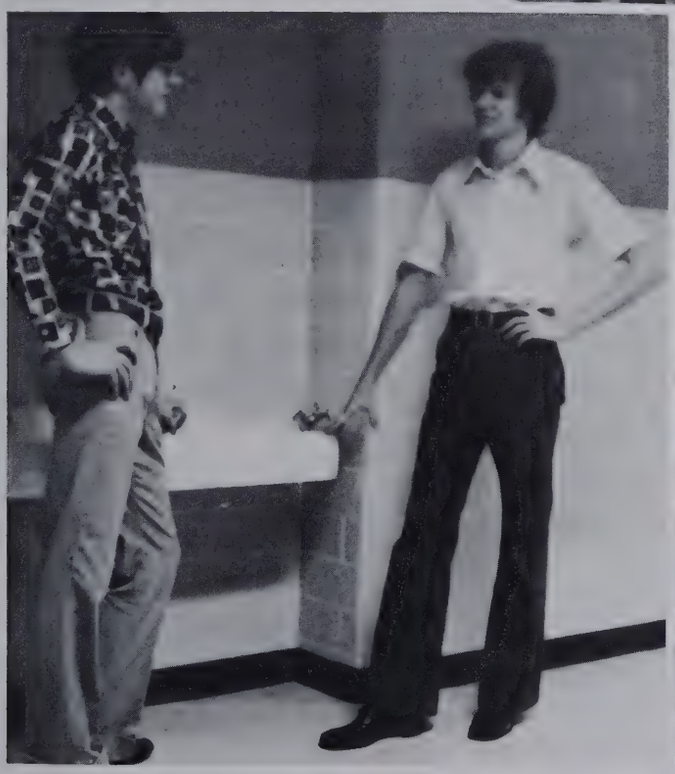
Dancing seems to ba a favorite pastime for Senior Berta Wattier.

The conspicuous 'Corunna Crew' confides clues concerning their current caper.

Presenting . . . DeKalb's Fashions

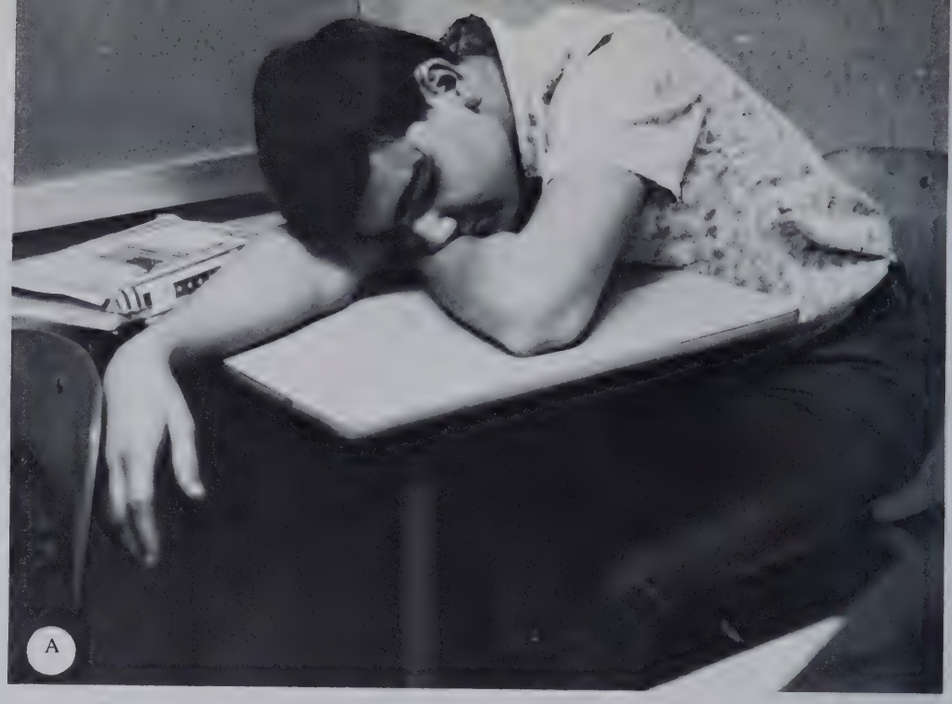
Baggies! Weo! Bummer! Streaking! Keep on truckin'. Let's Boogie. We hear you talking. We see you moving. We don't want you to forget the words, the places, the people . . . or even the styles.





Semester Blues

The month of January was a time for a massive epidemic of the Semester Blues to hit DHS. Christmas vacation was over and there were still three weeks till the semester ended. With nothing more momentous on the activity calendar than final exams, many Barons found they had to resort their own ingenuity to liven up those dreary days. So what did they think of? Some participated in impromptu parties or went out on freak T-Ping sprees. Others actually studied for finals. However, the most popular pastime was as old as mankind, sleeping.



A: As the semester ends, Sophomore Alan Goodwin's dreams begin. B: Senior Shela Raub goes quietly out of her mind while studying for a psychology final. C: Junior Steve Grogg tries to recapture childhood memories. D: Freshman Todd Appleman seems hungry for knowledge. The rabbit seems hungry, too. E: Senior Lu Betz shows how she scares the cheese off of the foil onto the pizza.

Backstage help proved an essential key.

C. Jay Hatter and Joe Clifford discuss their problem and then try to resolve it during dinner.

With the end of a great play, come mixed emotions.

Traces Bring . . .

Senior Class sponsor, Mr. Carper still finds prom enticing.

Shane Starr and Lisa Voelkel admire the decorations as they enter through the arch.

Prom night begins as Mike Gallagher introduces the band, Traces.

After-prom at the bowling alley is very exciting for Dave Haynes and Susan Fox.

Robbie Dove toasts Shelley Harvey and Denny Daniels at the Shake Shop, another after-prom entertainment.

Taku seems to be enjoying his first American prom with his date Cindy Weimer.

Prom Memories

"What on Earth is going on," asks Deb Squires or is her punch too strong?

This girl doesn't seem too pleased with her bowling talent.

Lorie Johnson laughs as she watches Ed Pfefferkorn become hypnotized.

Susie Mettert and her escort enjoy each other's company.

Is this a new exercise? No, it's Dr. Barron's first hypnotic step.

These couples find dancing to soft music enchanting.

The Moreland's can't decide which sandwich is best. Mr. Moreland served as Jr. class sponsor.

Crossing the bridge begins a fun-filled evening for prom-goers Nita Lundquist and Kevin Webb.

Entertainers Raise Baron's Spirits

PICTURE A: One of DeKalbs convo's this year was when the reknowned group "Up With People" came to town. B: The I.U.-Purdue singers presented the Cole Porter Revue, a different and intriguing program. C: DHS students appear amazed at the quick dance steps of "Up With People". D: The annual Campus Life fair group for '73 was Life. This Christian group left an everlasting impression. E: DeKalb's own entertainers, The Conglomeration, captured their audience. F: Expert showmanship in the Porter Revue enticed viewers.

Fine Arts Week Brings Out Many Hidden Talents at D.H.S.

May 12th through the 17th was designated as Fine Arts Week this year. This is a time when the Fine Arts Department displays its many talents through concerts and an extensive art show. Bands which could be heard in concert were the Symphonic, Concert, and the Freshman. The Vocal Music Department was represented by the A cappella Choir, the Chansonettes, Concert and Freshman Choirs, and the Girl's Glee Club. An artistic display including drawings, paintings, pottery and almost everything imaginable was set-up in the gym for public viewing each night. Fine Arts Week always provides a rewarding experience for all those who participate.

DISCOVERING

We might not have learned much,
but we sure had fun trying.
Not another test tomorrow!
That makes three in one day.
I'll just have to study a little for each and that's it . . .
Well at least I'm not the only one with that problem.
Everyone seems to have work piling up,
My comp paper is due in two days and my stock project in three.
How could anyone get it all done . . .
The Freshmen seem so eager to finish
"The Tale of Two Cities"
It really must be an exciting story.
And gym class . . . exercises,
Sit ups, push-ups, pull-ups.
In Geometry, and from Mr. Schlosser, we learned theorems and theorems, proofs and proofs, and a couple of good jokes.
But how could anyone ever forget disecting the frogs, worms,
and even cats in Biology.
Plus that horrible smell that lingered in Soph. Hall,
Juniors continously talked about
History tests and playing the game
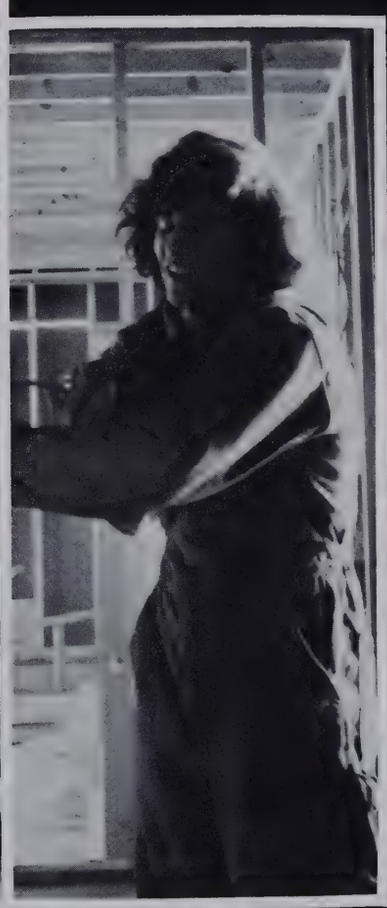
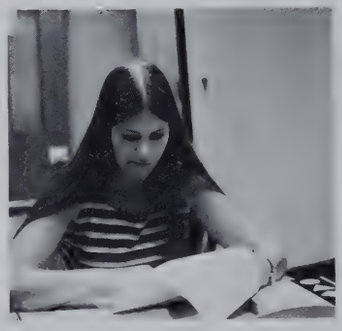
"Disunia". While Seniors talked of being out soon . . . after Econ & Govt.
Oh, how Barons search for truths.
Making mistakes, but always gaining
For DeKalb High School does have . . .

A TIME FOR DISCOVERING.

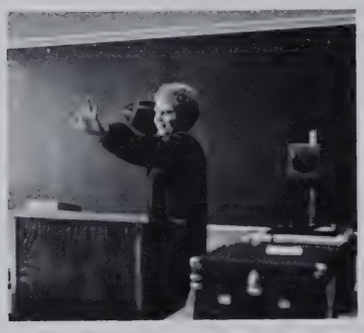


English Classes Produce a Variety of Memories

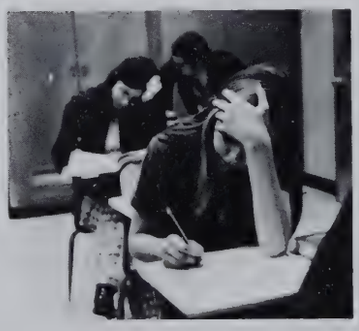
Composition, Speech, World and American Literature, Journalism, along with other classes are all a part of the Language Arts or English department. Students and teachers have many different experiences throughout the year. It is impossible to capture all of the memories of English classes but on these two pages we attempt to capsule many of the activities found in classes this past year.



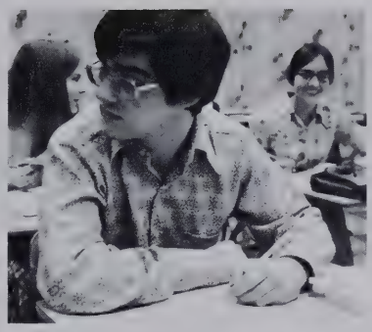
In most classes, grades are the most important goal and English classes are no exception. Some students sweat it out from the time they walk into class till the time they walk out. Not all grades are bad — Kirk Altimus looks excited with his score. Meanwhile, Penny Likens and Karen Newman seem satisfied as they discuss their tests. But then some grades aren't so good. Cheryl Krehl looks gloomily at her test. Mr. Stackhouse says, "That's what learning is all about."



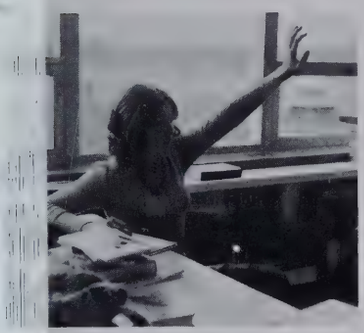
There are some lighter sides to English classes. Jonny Hines demonstrates her way of throwing a football. This shows imagination. Sabine Florreich laughs because she thinks getting her picture taken is funny. This shows humor. Lu Betz not only cuts class, but also cuts cake. Yum-Yum! After many hours of boring class, Norma Wilson freaks out. This is her way of letting out her tension at the end of the day.



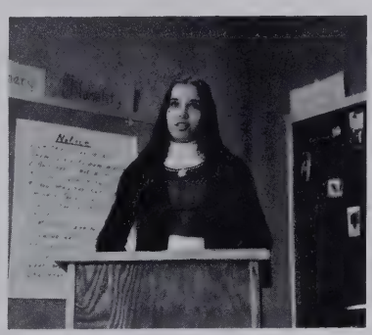
Some of the fundamentals of English class are good writing, good listening, and good reading. Working hard writing a theme occupies the time of Penny Cusick. Listening intently, Ron Payton absorbs a stream of knowledge. Loretta Coleman finds reading a satisfying experience, especially when she reads Dr. Seuss. Studying is not the only important thing in the English Department, looking good fills the time of many people. Mrs. Anthony takes time out for primping before her next class.



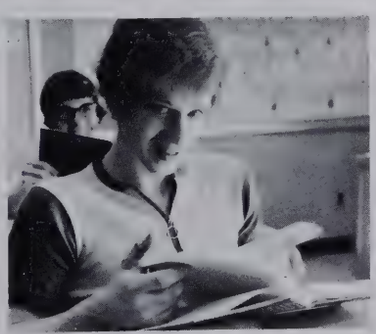
Discovering new ways of learning can be exciting. Mike Gerig detects a new way to solve his writing problems. Mike Butler should be able to write his paper himself, but he wants in on Mike's secret too. Meanwhile, Mrs. Walton's 4th hour Comp. class finds that English is not always "trite." To stay on her good side they throw a party for her, and get out of writing a theme. Using modern technology makes class more interesting for Kelly Randle as she uses a head phone in Mass Media class.



If you have a question, the best way of learning the answer is to ask about it. Susan Smith wastes no time in asking about Mr. Record's lecture. Louise Drerup calmly overcomes another trying test, meanwhile Kathy Marshall is overtaken by boredom as class drags on. Proof reading takes time, but is important. Pam Ward carefully scrutinizes her work.



Almost every student must learn to give a speech. Mr. Wilson intently listens to an interesting speech as he prepares to give a critique. But on the other end of the line, Brenda Coleman gives a speech which she is confident of. Something seems to be disturbing Jill Davis from her English class. Could it be a STREAKER? These freshman seem to enjoy their skit in English 9A. This gives them some experience in performing in front of class.



Wily Kurt Brace schemes to create more interruptions in English class, as he has nothing else to do. The photographer often disturbs students in their studies. Paul Pierce is interrupted from reading his textbook. Dawn Schwartz is distracted from reading an exciting novel. As the year closes. Nathan Warstler reminsces in all of his English classes.

Four Phases o

The foreign language department succeeded in teaching four phases of language: Spanish, German, Latin, and French. All of these languages were composed of at least two levels of study. Some had three and one had four.

The students at DeKalb were not only taught the basics of the language but also the history and cultural backgrounds of their languages' country. They learned through written and oral exercises.

Mrs. Farver, Mr. Love, Mr. Vick, and Mrs. Voss taught the students what the joys and rewards of learning a language other than our native one could be.

Kim Feller and Pete Smith spend their time wisely in Latin III.

The Latin I class learned to expect quizs over homework. Here Pam Ward trys to recall vocabulary definitions.

ABOVE: As Chuck Fifer thinks about a French III translation, Shelia Foley is already done and chuckling. BELOW: All the German I students make use of the equipment except for John Edwards, who seems to have lost his place.

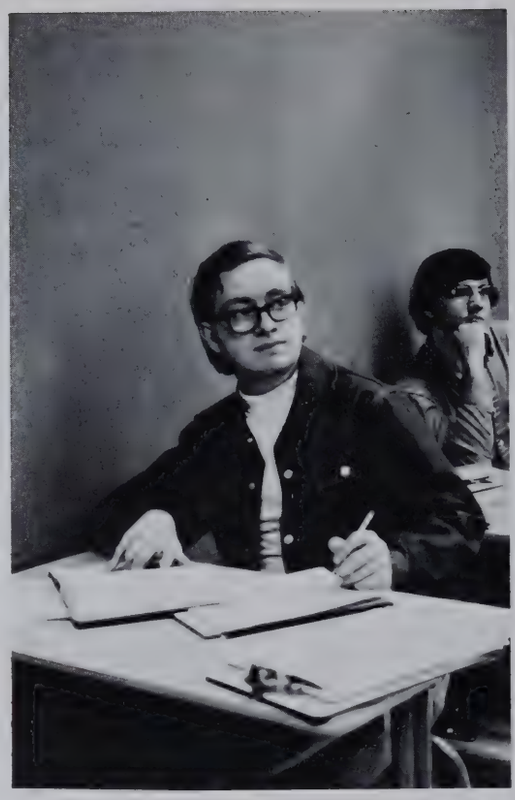
Forest Bates studies for perfection.

Business Sharpens Skills

The business department provided a wide variety of courses for students at DeKalb. A course, offered only for Seniors, was the two-period Intensive Business Lab. This course trained students for future secretarial work. Other classes such as bookkeeping, typing, recordkeeping and shorthand, better prepared students who wanted to make business as their career.

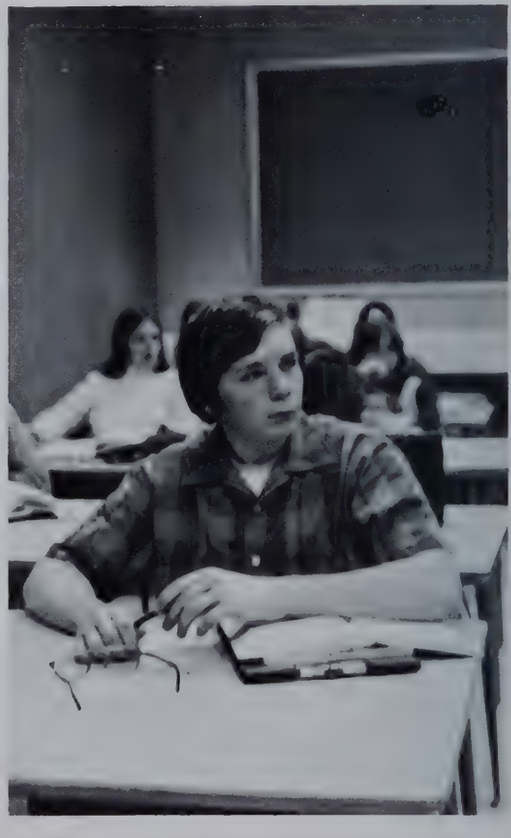
Faculty such as Mrs. Ford, Mr. Hillabrand, Mr. McKean, Mr. Williams, and Miss Wood helped make this department very rewarding and educational.



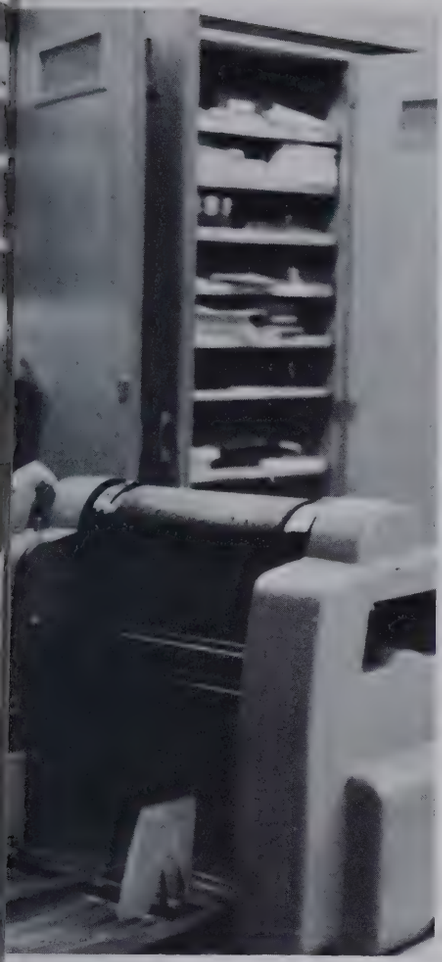
Larry listens intently in class.

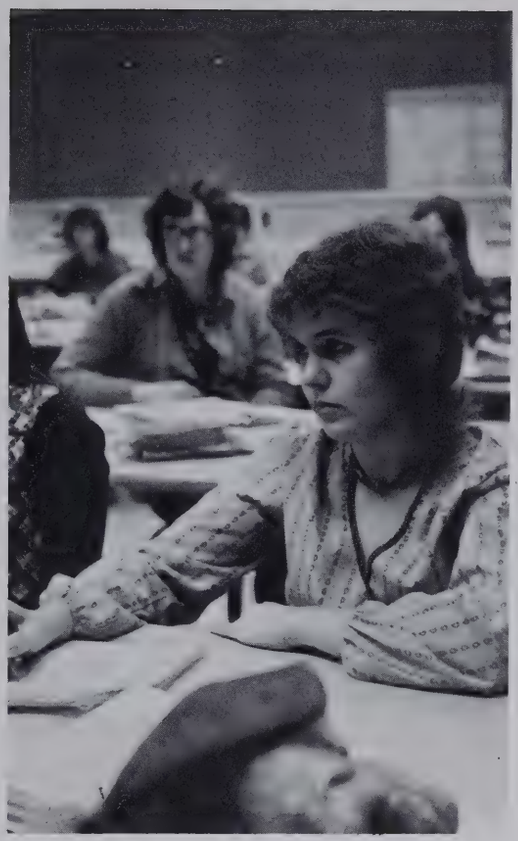
Diane, are you fiddling with that machine again?

Deb Bryant keeps busy typing in business class.



Rod Saurbeck gazes across the room.





Missy Elliot studies hard.

Jane wonders if Business Math is worth all the effort.

See Bunny. See Bunny type. Type. Type. Type.

Denise is intrigued by her business class.

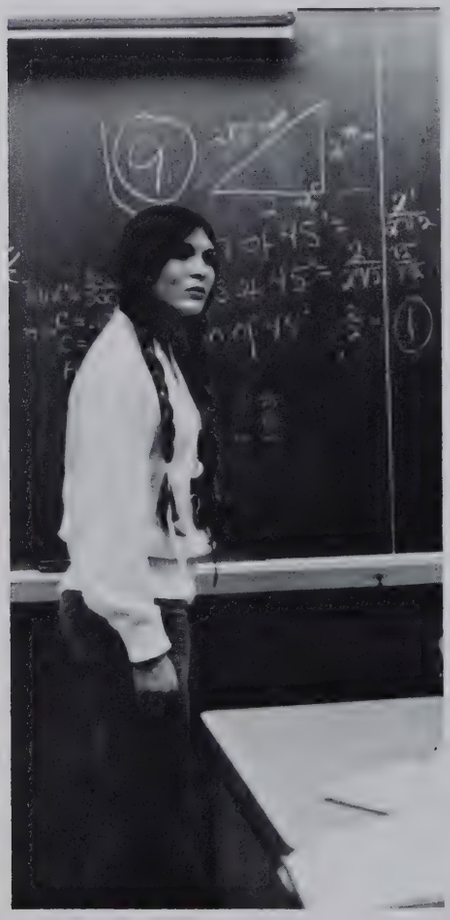
Students Master Math

Many levels of mathematics were taught at DeKalb. Freshmen had the choice of Practical Math or Algebra.

Geometry was offered for any student who had taken Algebra I. After Geometry, the next level of mathematics was Algebra II. A course offered only to Seniors was Trigonometry and Analytical Geometry. These combined to make Math IV.

Mr. Ford, Mr. Schlosser, Mr. Oswalt, Mr. Bassett, and Mr. Moree, taught the students of DeKalb these different levels of Mathematics.

Terry Fox, Denise Miller, Robert MacDonald, and Tim Ellert seem very interested in Math IV. They each listen intently to Mr. Ford.



Sophomore Jan Ely is amazed as she works on her problem in Geometry.

What is Christa trying to tell us about her Physics class? It can't be that much fun can it?

Students Probe Science

At DeKalb, students spent many hours of book work combined with many hours of lab work in their science classes. Survey Science, taken only by Freshmen, explored three areas of science. Freshmen this year, along with Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors, studied specialized areas of science which included Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Earth Science. The faculty consisted of Mr. Barber, Mr. Crabill, Mr. Kruger, Mr. Moreland, and Mr. Murphy.

Juniors Bill Wilson and John Clark perform a major operation in Biology II.

Study of Man

DeKalb High School's curriculum for Social Studies offered Government and Economics, two Senior requirements, U. S. History, a Junior requirement, and the electives, Psychology, Sociology, and Geography. Government students this year made their own legislation while fellow students voted on the passage of the bills.

Economics' students worked on income taxes and learned the frustrations and joys of the stock market. U. S. History students formed their own countries. Sociology students worked on case studies while Psychology students conducted many experiments on human behavior. Geography students studied maps of various countries.

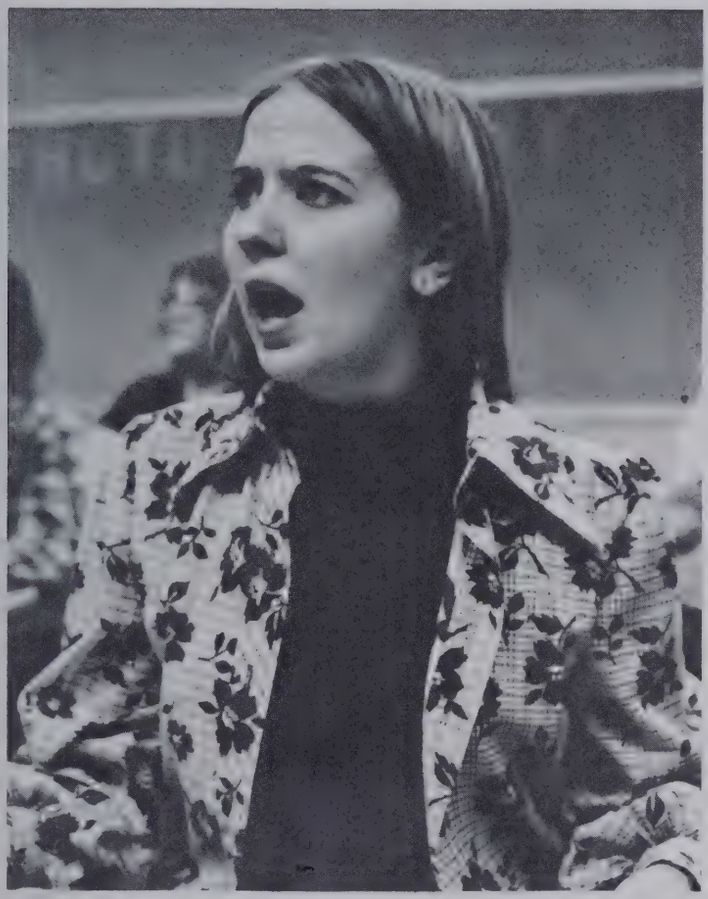
Through Time



Is Sue Groscup speaking up for Women's rights or is she catching flies? ABOVE RIGHT: Sandy Baker smiles relief when she discovers her high history test score.

Home Ec Teaches Essential Techniques

The Home Economics department at DeKalb High School offered a wide range of courses. Home Ec I, a prerequisite for all other classes, was one semester of cooking and one of sewing.

Foods I and II, and Clothing I and II were two advanced courses in Home Economics. Child Development, Family Care and Relations, and Housing also were in the curriculum. Students were allowed to take Foods and also Clothing as an independent study.

Sophomore Rose Diehl, an upcoming Pop and Fresh Dough Girl, prepares to manufacture "our own biscuit."

It looks as if Denise Warstler has just warned her Home Ec. neighbor, "One more time and . . ."

Art Expresses An Individual's Creativity

DeKalb High School Art Students kept very busy throughout the year. Making string designs, weaving rugs, molding pottery, drawing, painting, and sculpturing, were only a few of the numerous projects the D.H.S. art students worked on. The faculty consisted of Mr. Stone, Miss Bevington, Mrs. Van Horne, and Mrs. Voss. They taught the students to express themselves through creativity.

Will Havens' talent blossoms forth in a cappella choir.

Teaches Learning As a Team

The Baron Music Department kept busy this year with concerts, music contest and the musical. Mr. Norris and the pep band gave added life to the spirit at the DeKalb Basketball games by leading cheers. They also acquired new uniforms to wear at the games. Conglomeration also has been very active this year. Under the direction of Mr. Markiton, the group travelled to area schools to perform and cut a record. We salute the music department for doing such a fine job.

These girls seem to be enjoying their hour in Freshman Band.

What would the band sound like without the flute section? Especially the talent of Donna Martz and Margaret Lieb?

The Band plays on while Lynne Rush takes a break from her clarinet playing to pose for the photographer.

Mr. Norris seems deeply involved in directing the Pep Band.

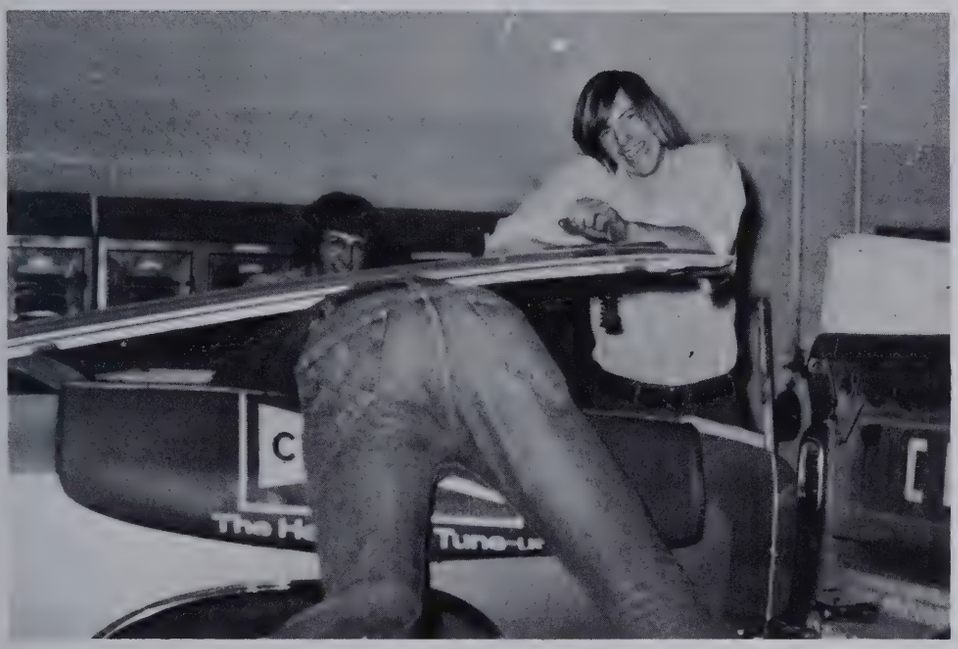
Pat Gorsuch seems to enjoy his Ag. Class

Girls as well as boys are enrolled in landscaping.

Steve Provines displays his talent at welding.

Step Toward the Future



With the help of Rory Walker and Bill Bloemeke, Bruce Rezmer will have this car fixed in no time.

DeKalb's Industrial Arts courses provided important vocational training to interested Barons and gave them skill in creating useful objects with their own hands, Industrial Arts includes a wide variety of courses, and practical insights. The skills learned in these classes provided a solid foundation in meeting the needs of the future.

From the study of budding to raising 15 acres of corn, Ag. students probed the fundamentals of horticulture, landscaping, or conservation. Woodworking, the repair and care of small engines, electricity, and welding were all taught to prepare the student for job opportunities after graduation.

Special Ed: Strive to Learn

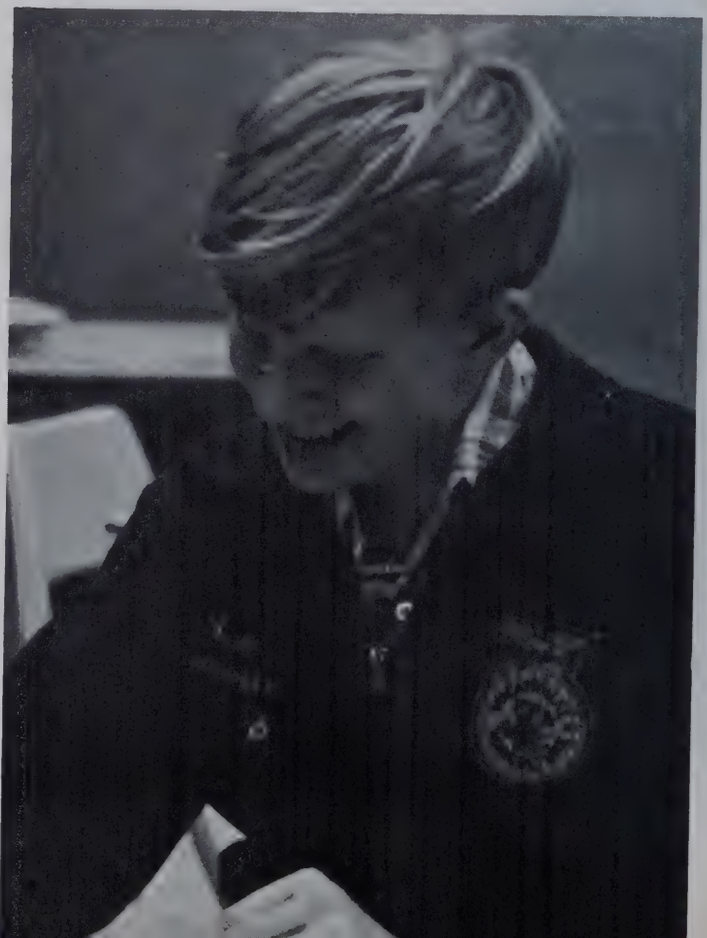
This year Robert Jensen was graduated from DeKalb's Special Education Class. Special Education, taught by Mrs. Watts, offers a basic background in all academic areas plus other electives which the student may choose to take. According to Mrs. Watts, her students are just like any other class. They have the same graduation requirements as any other student at DeKalb.

Mrs. Watts has been teaching Special Education for eight years. Here she and Bill Chagoya go over a math assignment.

Wilma Davis, a junior this year, has a growing interest in art. She looks pretty talented, doesn't she?

Robert Jensen, the only Senior in his class, catches up in his studies between classes.

By the expression on Charles Reinoehl's face we can tell he really enjoys his classes with Mrs. Watts.



Boys Gain New Skills Through Building Trades

der the supervision of Mr. Peter Potts, twenty-four ior and senior boys built a $32,000 ranch style home he Building Trades class this year. The house is located he corner of South Dewey and East Seventh streets Auburn. The class was cut into two parts with about lve boys taking it the first three periods and twelve boys ing the class the fourth to sixth periods. The house was l before it was finished, which reflects nicely on the fine k of Mr. Potts and his crew. Mr. and Mrs. Howard m are now the proud owners of the house. Building des has been active for the past three years at DeKalb l has built some very nice homes. There was an open se at the end of May to show off this year's home.

BOVE: Homer Keen Has been taught the correct technique for apling down sub-flooring. BELOW: Senior Ed Pfefferkorn works on e window of the house.

Doug Donaldson exhibits his "he-man" strength.

Mr. Potts instructs Bernie Buchs how to properly use an extension cord.

DHS Students Get Loose in P.E.

Physical Education at DeKalb provided many ways for the students to release their pent up energies. Advanced P.E. explored many activities not usually associated with gym class. It wasn't unusual to see classes throwing horse shoes, practicing archery, hitting and missing golf balls at the driving range, or attempting to make a spare at the bowling alley. Swimming and hockey were also on the schedule. The students will agree that the Physical Education curriculum is fun and informative.

Exploratory

Exploratory Teaching enabled students to transfer rolls and play the part of teacher. Going their separate ways, these exploratory Teachers departed from DHS at the beginning of fourth hour to either the East Auburn or Waterloo Elementary Schools. The main objective of the course was to see if the Seniors enrolled truly desired to pursue a teaching career.

The students had to take the responsibility of arranging their transportation and also in catching a bite to eat on the way. Beyond these initial responsibilities, the novis teachers then worked in their separate classrooms. Director of the program, Marcelle Voss, informed the students of vital teaching techniques before anyone began their work. Although most of the youngsters bestowed gifts upon their student teachers, the greatest reward for each practicing teacher was a feeling of accomplishment and many new lasting friendships. Some of the students also traveled with their classes to such places as Franke Park the Franke Park Zoo and Pokagon State Park for a field trip adventure. At the end of each semester the student teachers spent an entire day with their class.

Part Time Students Work On!

Shayne Henry tries to explain that running a cash register is easy.

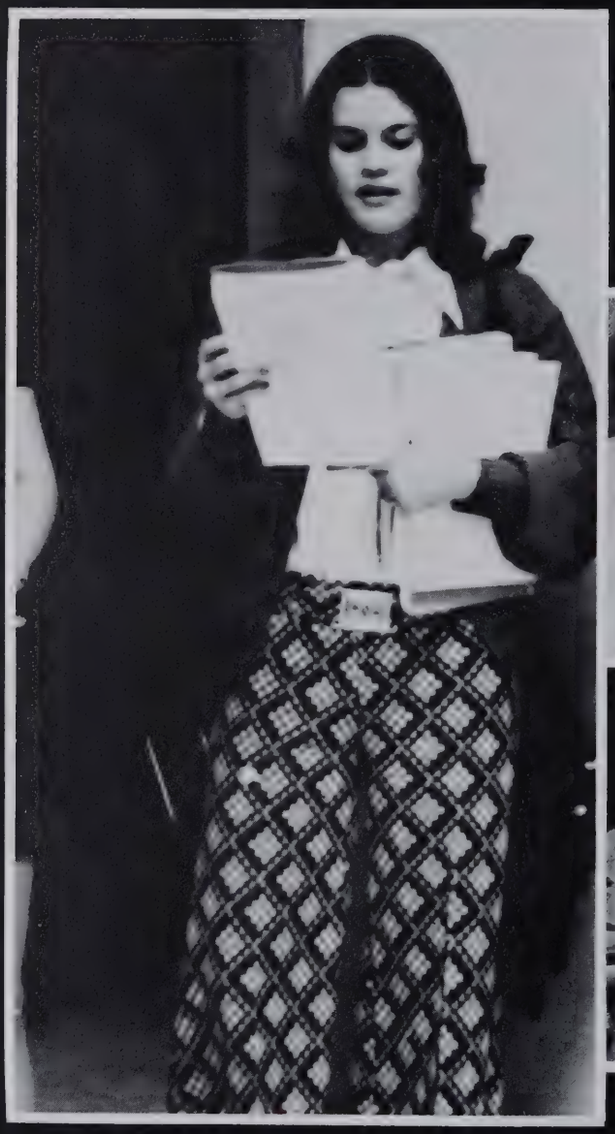
Susan Wertenberger demonstrates how a bank computer runs.

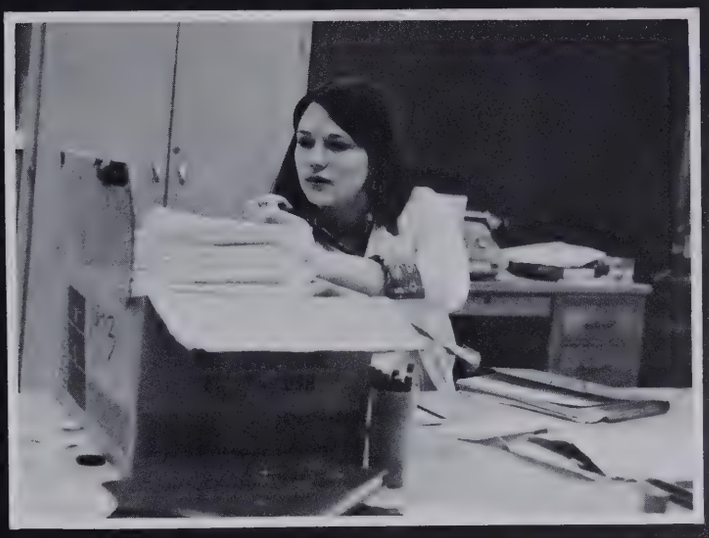
Cathy Baughman does work hard at the Hospital. Well at least part of the time.

Jeanne Shoudel shows how to stack newsstand magazines.

Berta Wattier learned how to fill out an invoice at the Underground.

A TIME FOR . . .





BELONGING

Wow! 10 p.m. already. I better go home. I've got homework to do. But school has to be more than just books, classes and chalk dust. From 8:45 a.m. 'til 3:40 p.m. Everyday! And so it is, I've joined all the extra clubs I could, striving to become a well-rounded individual (or so I tell my parents so I can have the car). But sometimes it's a little hard for me to squeeze everything I want to do into only 24 hours. Like tonight, first I had pep club after school, then I had to practice my horn for contest, and after that it was time for the Saber meeting and I really should have written a committee report for Student Council tomorrow. Days just aren't long enough. I have to make every minute, every moment count, in order to find that D.H.S. had a time for . . . BELONGING.

Council Sponsors Activities

"In my opinion," offers Pete Smith, "It's yes," but Marshall Grate remains non-contender.

The mini-course concept presented in council creates mixed feelings for underclassmen.

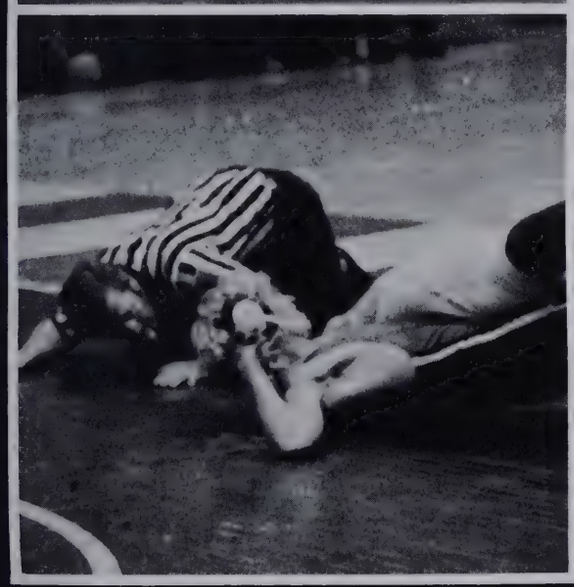
A TIME FOR...

COMPETING



We won the game. The Sectional is ours.
Chew 'em up, spit 'em out, Rah, Rah,
Rah.
The fans are up and the ratings too.
But at 5 A.M. it's just me
And the birds when I jog trying to keep in shape.
That was the coach's idea.
After practice
My family has already eaten so I'm given cold left-overs Served with a generous helping of English and Math.
Dad and Mom become tutors
because one "F" and that's it.
I'm off the team.
Grunting guards, flying pigskin
That unexpected fumble.
The clicking scoreboard, one pointers
from the foul line
two from the floor.
The backup men awaiting their call
Muscles flex, sweat pours.
Runners speed
At the crack of the gun.
The tennis team swinging rackets
The baseball team cracking homers
The sandtrap after the third hole
The cries of the cheerleaders.
The pleading of spirited fans.
The backing of proud parents.
"I can't let them down"
Is the fleeting thought of each athlete
For DeKalb High has
A TIME FOR COMPETING

Spirit Alive

Just what is Spirit? Ask a Baron cheerleader and you'll get this reply. "Spirit is caring on the field, in the gym, and in the classroom. It's sticking with your team all the time, win or lose. Spirit is pride." And with this unique devotion the cheerleaders led crowds with instilled vigor to follow DeKalb teams to the top. The Varsity cheerleaders attended camp last summer in Ohio and brought home a second place ribbon along with a new style of chants and cheers. This fall the six girls were named "Cheerleading Champions of Northeastern Indiana." The Varsity, Reserve, and Frosh. squads worked closely with sponsor Mrs. Jo David to improve technique and build enthusiasm. The girls also planned pep-sessions, spirit days and still found time to decorate the locker rooms weekly, make spirit signs, and do other special team morale boosters. The special dedication of these eleven girls proved a vital part in the victories of the Baron teams.

Lettermen Serve Baron Fans

The Lettermen's club is composed of all athletes that have won the letter "D" award. During the basketball season, these Baron men ran the concessions under the leadership of Mr. Stackhouse, selling scrumptious popcorn and other goodies.

Other activities included sponsoring projects which helped enhance DHS. In the past, they have aided in purchasing the Universal weight machine, the Video Rover, and the ice machine used by the athletic department.

These young men are to be congratulated for their fine work on and off the playing fields and courts.

FCA Builds Character

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is dedicated to helping the young athlete relate his faith to his actions, on and off the field, and in his school life. This is often accomplished by discussing problems with fellow club members.

During the past year, the FCA ran a concession stand during ACD days, had overnight activity sessions at the high school, and sent several members to a summer camp.

Each member of FCA is a fine example of the complete athlete.

Big Red Sets Mark

This past season the Baron football team, under new head coach Bill Moree, compiled a 7-3 record. This record equals the most wins ever achieved by a DeKalb football team and gives next year's team a goal to shoot for. After many long practices and a fine showing at the Goshen Jamboree, the spirited players took the field at Bluffton.

Although the Tigers scored on the first play from scrimmage, the defense held the rest of the game and the Barons came home 20-6 victors. The next game found the team at Angola in a defensive struggle. Chris Phillips scored the only touchdown on a 30-yard run, and DeKalb came home a winner again, 6-0. The first home game of the season found the gridmen against tough New Haven. Although the bulldogs scored, the team showed good poise and pulled out a 19-6 victory. Home again, this time against Goshen, the Barons were big underdogs. Behind 13-7 at the half, the mighty Barons came on big in the second half to win 28-13. The game against Columbia City was perhaps the most exciting of the season. Tied at 7-7 with just one minute fifty six seconds to go in the game, Dan Montez booted a 21-yard field goal to pull the game out for the Big Red Machine, 10-7. After jumping to a 10-0 lead the next week against Concordia, the Barons couldn't hang on in the second half, and lost their first, 12-10. Seemingly recovered from their previous loss, the team mauled Garrett 21-0 in the next game.

The Barons split the next two games, losing to East Noble 22-0, and defeating Bellmont 36-23. Although they tied for their division title, the best the team could manage in the conference race was third. In the ensuing playoff game they lost to Garrett, 31-14, to take fourth place. Even though it was a loss, it capped off a fine 1973 season.

Reserves Win With Defense

The Baron reserves had a fine season under coach Dick McKean, winning six and losing only two. Defense was the word as all six victories were shut-outs. The season also included some fine offensive showings as they defeated Angola 40-0, and Heritage by a 24-0 count. Although they lost their second game 28-14, the tough reserves didn't give up, and came back to win their next four games in a row.

Their final loss was to a tough Bishop Luers team on a last quarter touchdown drive. The Junior Varsity season ended happily, however, as they defeated Heritage. With the fine spirit, dedication, and playing abilities these young men showed during the season, the Baron football program should have a very successful future.

Freshmen Display Spirit

The 3-5 record the freshman football team attained was not a true indication of what they accomplished during their season. Although they were unable to score in their first three games, they were not to be denied and scored on East Noble only to see victory slip away once again. Against Garrett, however, the team put it all together and pulled out their first victory, 8-6. Bishop Luers, a perennially tough foe, handed the Barons their next defeat 26-6, in a one-sided contest. The frosh never gave up though, and coach Russ Smith led them to two straight victories to end the season on an optimistic note.

Harriers to State

Although they were without their two best runners, the DeKalb Cross Country Team of 1973 became the first to participate in a state meet. Marshall Grate, who smashed course records all over the area, and Paul Vallance, who had excelled in his first year of competition, were injured and unable to run in the final meets of the season. A fine group of underclassmen and one senior carried the Baron banner through these meets. They filled the vacancies quite adequately, as the team took first in the conference meet and fourth in the sectional and regional meets. In the regional meet, six of the seven runners ran the best times of their lives, thus qualifying them for the state meet, where they took sixteenth place.

Highlights of the season also included wins in the DeKalb and Southside Invitationals, nine meets in which the team received the best score possible against their opponents, and a fine 18-2 record. Marshall Grate had the best time of the season with a 12:04 clocking.

Racketeers Net

The Baron Racketeers played their way through an up and down season, recording a 4-6 record. Although they lost their first three, the players came back under the fine leadership of their new coach, Richard Frary, and won four out of their last seven meets. In the conference meet, the Barons were defeated by the champion East Noble team, and managed to advance senior Jim Dunn through the first round of the sectional meet. Although they didn't reach the .500 mark, many of the meets were close and could have gone either way. With only two varsity members graduating, Jim Dunn and Brad Jennings, the tennis team, with a lot of experience returning, has a very bright future.

Baron Wrestlers Have

The '73-74 D.H.S. wrestlers finished with the best season record in the history of DeKalb. The Baron grapplers tallied a 7-7 record. Under the experienced direction of Coach Russ Smith, the Barons placed fourth in the NEIAC and brought home a third place in the wrestling sectional held at East Noble. Senior Tim High, sporting a 17-2 record, and Sophomore Dave Graber, with a 15-5 record, placed first in the NEIAC. High and Senior Kevin Myers took firsts in the sectional, with John Friedel and Sophomores Steve Butler, Dave Krontz, and Dave Graber grabbing second place honors to place six Barons in regional competition. Myers placed fourth at the regional, the high man for Dekalb.

The powerhouses for next year's team will be Steve Butler (12-7), and Dave Graber (15-5).

Although eight seniors will be graduating, the determination and talent of the underclassmen show 1975 to be a promising year for the Baron wrestlers.

Gymnasts Flip On

Tough training, long practices, and sore muscles became a reality to 15 Barons as the gymnastic's season rolled around. Though the team was small and its members young, their performances could make any Baron proud! The season ended in a 5-9 record, the team losing many by only fractions of a point. The season closed as two Barons advanced to State Finals. Juniors Eric Simanton and Greg Collins scored well at State on the p-bars and horse respectively. With all men returning next year and a fine coaching staff, more victories are inevitable.

Barons Take Sectional

Although the 1973-74 DeKalb High School basketball team posted a 6-14 regular season record, they topped the performance of any other DeKalb team by advancing to the championship game of the Fort Wayne regional. During the season the "Big Red" was plagued by bad breaks and close defeats as seven of their losses were by five points or less.

The team never gave up though and they were more than ready for their sectional test. In the first game the Barons set a new gym, school, and sectional scoring record by defeating Prairie Heights 101 to 47.

The next game, against the Marines of Hamilton, proved as easy, as they won 83 to 47. In the championship game the "Big Red Machine" avenged a previous five point loss to Angola by defeating them 71 to 50. The tourney drawing pitted DeKalb against the Knights of East Noble in the first game of the regional, and in what may be considered their best game of the year, the Barons outclassed the NEIAC champions in every way. Even after being tied at the end of regulation play, the team took control in the overtime, and came out 67 to 60 victors. With this win, they advanced to the championship game against fifth-ranked Northrop of Fort Wayne. The Barons surprised the Bruins, as they trailed by only four at the half. Northrop outshot the Barons in the second half, however, and the "Big Red" was defeated 63 to 44.

The scoring leader for the season was Jerry Singleton. His 461 points also earned him third place in the conference scoring race. Jerry also led the team in rebounding, followed by Don Leins. John Platt was the second leading scorer with a 12.2 point average.

Singleton was the recipient of a first team all-conference award and Platt and Leins received honorable mention commendations.

Freshmen Have Fine Season

The freshman basketball team of 1973-74 had a very successful season under the leadership of Head Coach Bill Jones. They lost only three games during their season. Two of those were to East Noble by a total of only five points. Fifteen wins were achieved by the Barons, including a nine game winning streak and a tourney championship on their home floor. The team is to be congratulated for their season, and with athletes of this caliber, Baron fans can look forward to a great future for DeKalb basketball.

Reserves Prepare for Varsity

The Baron Reserves, under the watchful eye of Coach Ken Workman, started the season with a loss, but came back to post a final 13-7 record. Three of the losses were by six points or less, and none of these were out of reach at the final buzzer. The Holiday Tourney championship was the highlight of the season, as the Barons rolled over Carroll and Eastside. During the season many of the fellows played C-team ball and gained valuable experience in this way. The poise and determination shown by these boys is something all Barons can be proud of.

Barons Crowned NEIAC Champs

Besides taking the NEIAC crown, the Baron track team was victorious in taking the Kokomo Relays for the sixth straight year. They also ended the season with a 5-2 record and placed high in several relays.

In Sectional competition, Marshall and Matt Grate scored well and thus advanced to regional competition. All in all, the Baron Cindermen had a fine season. With many lettermen returning next year, the upcoming season looks promising.

Baron Golfers Gain Experience

Coach Wagner and his mighty Baron golfers putted their way through another season. Rainy weather seemed to delay a few meets but beside that everything went smoothly. Looking for the ball in the creek, breaking tees, knocking drives, chips, and getting birdies were misadventures of Baron golfers. Bob Mac Donald, a Senior and the only returning letterman, showed big improvement from last year. With two Juniors, six Sophomores, and one Freshman returning to action next year a successful season is in store.

The hard work and determination of the underclassmen show great promise for Coach Wagner's '75 Baron golf team.

Baseball Team Takes Sectional

The Baron baseball team, under the leadership of Coach Bill Jones, combined power hitting and a stingy defense to compile a 20-10 record for the '74 season. The highlights of the season included a double victory over state ranked South Bend Clay, honorable mention in the State rankings, a tight conference race, a no-hitter pitched by Gary Buttermore over S.B. Clay, and two Five game win streaks. Although there are several seniors on the team a powerful bench is waiting to be used and should produce a fine team for next year.

JV Squad Wins Big

In achieving their excellent 9-1 record the B-team proved they had the ability and drive to compete on the varsity level. Great hitting was part of the junior varsity's season as they scored more than ten runs in six of their games. Many of the boys who played junior varsity ball also had some varsity experience. These boys along with the returning varsity players should aid the varsity in their quest for a good record in '75.

Up and Coming

The DeKalb Lady Barons are now up and coming. To start off, the girls are now in the IHSAA rulings instead of the sanctioned GAA. Also, the girls have been put on the same lettering standards as the "guys". This year was the first time in the history of D.H.S. athletics that the Lady Barons were awarded letter jackets. Under the supervision of Mrs. Herzer, (softball), Miss Taelman, (volleyball), and Mrs. Dannalson, (basketball), the girls produced satisfying seasons. Mrs. Herzer had a 3-4 record with the outstanding game being a 38-3 victory over Angola. Miss Taelman's volleyball team could only manage a 3-14 record in varsity and a 1-5 record in B-team action.

Since losing only two seniors this year, Miss Taelman is looking forward to next year's returning Barons. The girl's basketball team ended their season with a 10-2 record. This is the school's best record thus far. Highlights of the girl's season included taking the first girl's basketball tourney held here at DeKalb. Women's lib. has just begun!

Girl's Sports Swing On With

The coaches for the spring sports, Frary, Taelman, Herzer, and Dannalson swang into their respective sports with enthusiastic feelings. Mr. Frary and Miss Taelman started it all off with the girl's gymnastics team. The team compiled a very successful season record of 7-2. The optional team placed third at sectional, with Lisa Walker advancing to the regional. Having only one senior gymnast, Mr. Frary and Miss Taelman are looking for an even better season next year with their returning letterwomen. Mrs. Dannalson, the tennis team coach this year, had a 3-4 season. The team, being only underclassmen, are looking forward to next year with experience and confidence. Mrs. Herzer and Miss Taelman, for the first year, were head coaches for the girl's track team. With only an eleven meet season the girls achieved a 9-2 record and took fifth place at the sectional. Only two girls advanced to the regional, Freshman Lynda Rudolph, in the 880 yd. run and Senior Donna Frain in the softball throw and shot put. Coaches Herzer and Taelman are looking forward to next year's season because of the experience gained by the underclassmen, as only four senior girls are graduating.

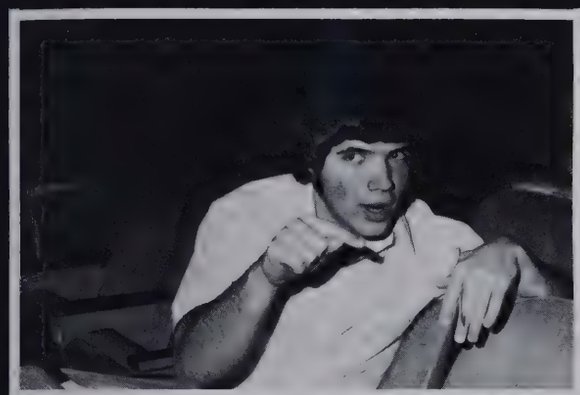
FRIENDSHIP



1300 people.
That's a lot of names
and faces to keep straight.
Why, just the other day
I was talking to some girl who must have known me,
but I sure didn't remember her.
We're all so much alike,
yet we're each different.
Individuals
With our own special talents,
Doing and seeing things differently.
We all strive
to reach separate goals,
dreaming of a perfect life
in a troubled world.
Yet sometimes when the halls become a blur of faces and I can't tell friends from enemies.
I think of all these people;
administrators, teachers, janitors,
and students.
And I see that DeKalb High
has a time for . . . FRIENDSHIPS.

Juniors Reflect Memories

Roger Messman
1956-1973

In Memory of Roger Messman

Goodbye my friend
I hope to see you again
But who will say when

Does all the time we had seem lost to space?
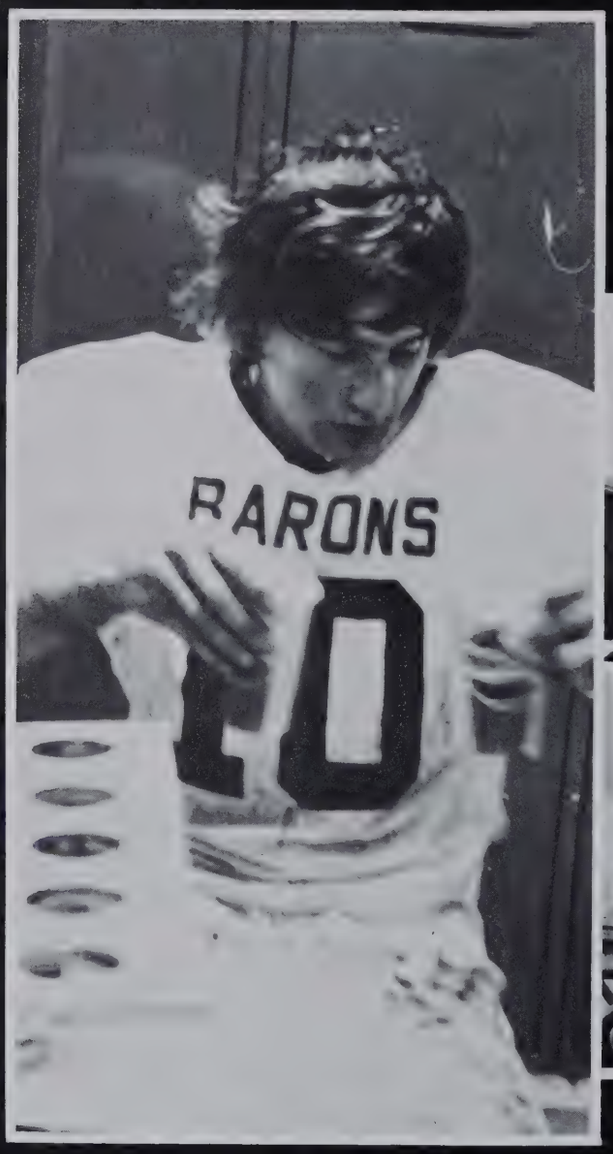
Are we a phase of the past
And all that ever was?

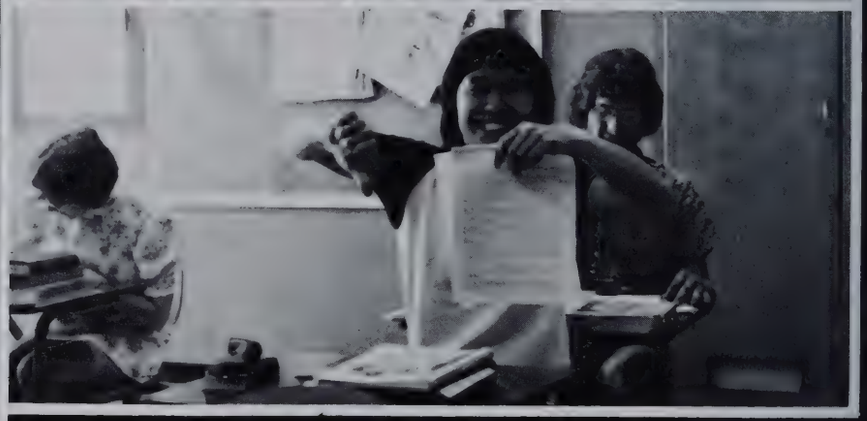
And if you look to the mirror
You can find peace in your eyes
If you are willing to hear

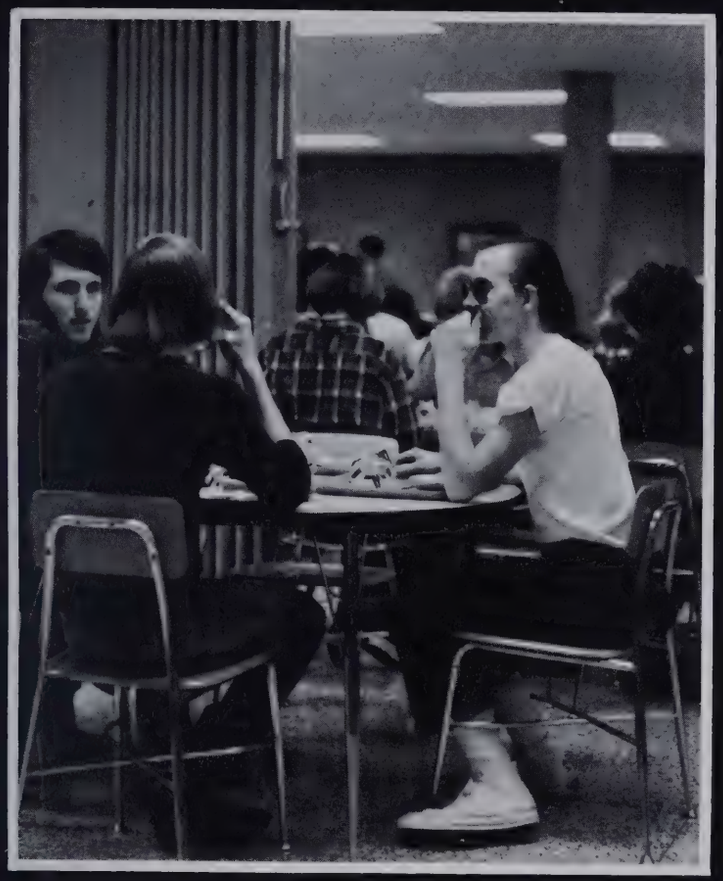
And so, as the dawn
Returns us to our place
You'll find a different face
And the memories of forgotten days
As we say

Goodbye my friend
I hope to see you again
But who will say when.

A TIME FOR ...







SENIORS

Well, here I am in cap and gown with diploma in hand.
It all started four years ago.
I was just a beginner then and everyone used to talk about me saying that I was just a dumb freshman. But I gained confidence by the next year; My sophomore year
I got my class jacket and I was proud to wear it, but the end of my sophomore year meant high school was half over;
And when I got my driver's license I was the envy of every pre-teener and teeny-bopper around. But all of a sudden I became a chauffeur for everyone that was going my way. Oh well, that's life, As a junior I discovered what academics were all about . . . U.S. History, Composition, Biology II . . .
What a year.
On May 20, 1973, I said good-bye to the Class of '73 and promptly took over
Senior hall and all its duties . . .
It was a funny feeling, being the oldest, and I'm not sure I always set the best example, I've grown up during these four years. Now I watch the news and read the paper, but I still read the cartoons.
On May 26, 1974, I bid farewell to DHS along with my fellow classmates.
Everyone had mixed emotions about leaving.
I'm leaving an exciting insecure world for another, But for my last time, as a Baron, I'll yell, "I'm a Senior!"
for DeKalb High has . . .
A Time for Seniors.

A.F.S. Students at D.H.S.

Christa DeClippel and Takuji Fujita became DeKalb Barons last summer. This is now the sixth year for the A.F.S. program to place a student or students in our area.

Coming to Auburn from Belgium, Christa lived with the Roger Wertenberger family in Auburn. Becoming very accustomed to our way of life in the U.S.A. Christa found many things to do in and out of school. Life at DHS was an experience for Christa as she became active in German Club, French Club, Spanish Club, and J.A. One of the features of the year was going with the German Club to Frankenmuth, Michigan. After leaving Auburn on June 25, Christa will return to Belgium and attend college. She plans to go into Economics or become a dentist.

Taku Fujita came to DHS from Japan. His American family was the Al Scrange's of rural Waterloo. Taku, also grew familiar with Indiana's way of life. At DeKalb, Taku took part in German Club, Boys Pep Club, and Wrestling. Taku also become a very active member in Campus Life. He found this group's activities a very interesting experience. Taku will also return home in June where he will continue his education. He hopes to some day become a doctor.

While DHS played host to these students, a member of the Senior class, Eric Outland (below), ventured off to Bolivia for a year. This is the second DeKalb student to become involved in the AFS program. The entire student body wishes the students much success in everything they do, and hope they all return to Indiana.

Graduation 1974

The 1974 Senior Class of 300 received their diplomas on May 26, from School Board President Norman Rohm The ceremonies began at 2:00 that afternoon. Following the invocation by Jeff Bassett, Jeff Rohm welcomed families and friends of the class. Reverend Rodney Hall, of the Waterloo Church of Christ and a DHS teacher, gave the sermon. The entire class sang their song, "The Further We Reach Out the Closer We Become." The class intention was presented by Suzy Fleck and Jon Stepp gave the farewell. The class was presented by Principal Tilson King and Dr. James Watson, called the roll. Pete Smith concluded the ceremony with the benediction.

PICTURE A: It seems that graduation always brings tears to the girls' eyes, but the guys manage to wait until no one is around. Here Diane Delbecq wipes away her tears. PICTURE B: The Reverend Rod Hall delivered the Baculaureate service, as the class listens intently. PICTURE C: The mixed emotions of graduation are easily seen in the faces of these Seniors, as John Platt, Bill McIntyre, Gary Woebbeking, and Gary Buttermore anticipate what is to come.

The Further We Reach, the Higher We Climb

PICTURE A: The entire Senior class sings "The Further We Reach Out, The Closer We Become", the class song. PICTURE B: Bill Brewer adjusts his cap according to a friend's directions. It's a must that the caps are all sitting straight. PICTURE C: Jon Stepp, speaking for the class, bids a final farewell to all at DHS.

TO MEET . . TO LEARN . . TO GIVE . .

The Further We Reach Out

I had a thought while they walked in the moondust
In one breathless moment I saw
Like warm air rising or apples falling
Must be a natural law
Chorus:
The further we reach out, the closer we become
The further we reach out, the closer we become.
Each time we reach out beyond our knowing,
Each time that we overcome,
Or breach the limits of our love,
We leave dreams for our little ones.
Chorus:
The further we reach out, the closer we become
The further we reach out, the closer we become
The further we reach out, the closer we become.
This town of ours just keeps getting so crowded
Yet we seem so far apart
Worlds getting smaller, we must be bigger
Make extra room in our hearts.
Chorus:
The further we reach out, the closer we become
The further we reach out, the closer we become. (Repeat 3 times)

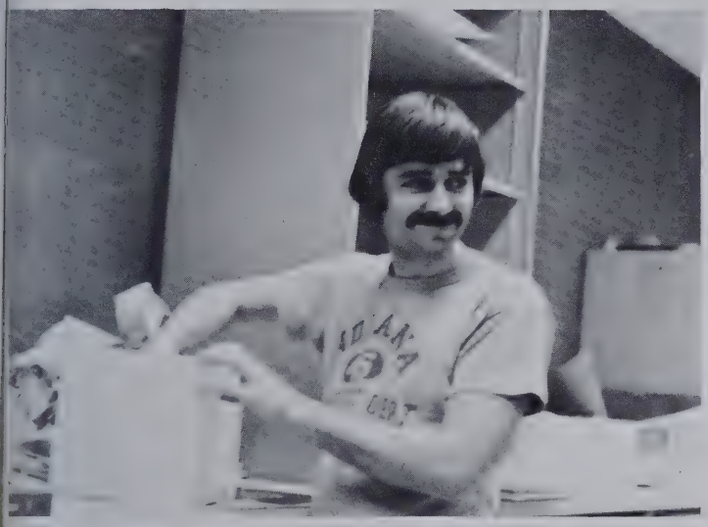
THANKS J. DUB FOR



EVERYTHING

John Wilson was the '74 SABER advisor. This was his first year working on the yearbook. He received the position with mixed emotions but ended it with many treasured moments. We, the SABER staff would like to thank him for all of his patience, guidance, understanding, and just great personality. Working with him has brought us all closer and an everlasting friendship has developed. And so J. Dub, thanks again for a great year, no one will ever forget.

Endings always bring an intermingling of joy and sadness
and as we leave behind another year we can look back fondly and remember all the moments that made our year unique.
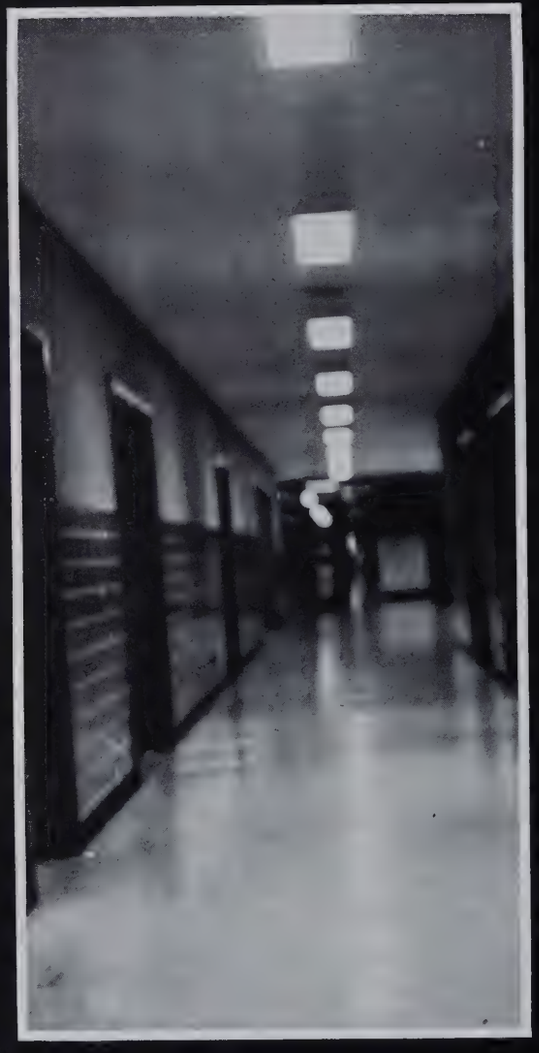
But try as we may, we can never return for now we are yesterdays child becoming tomorrows adults.



ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

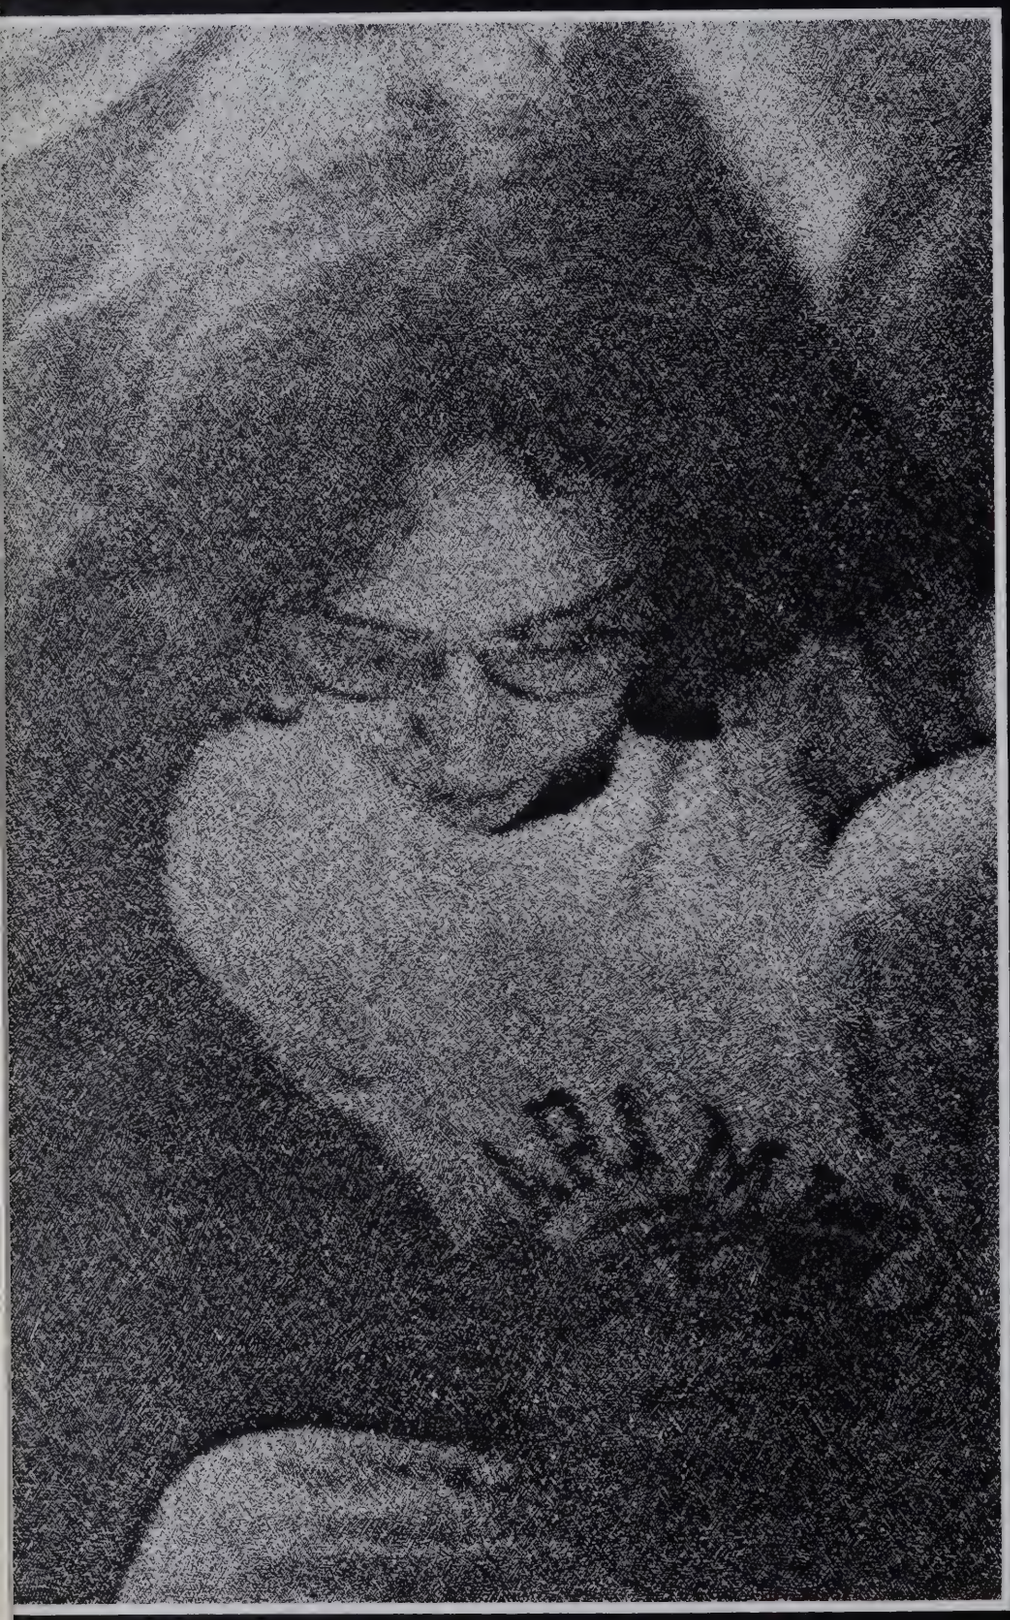
Winning prizes is the best part of life.

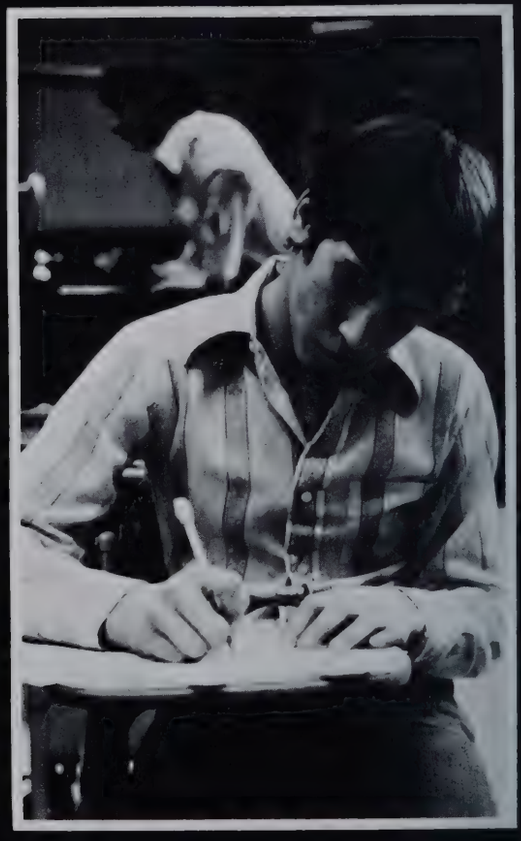
Last spring, when I was inducted into Honor Society, everyone teased me and called me a "brain", but I could tell they too, were proud of me.

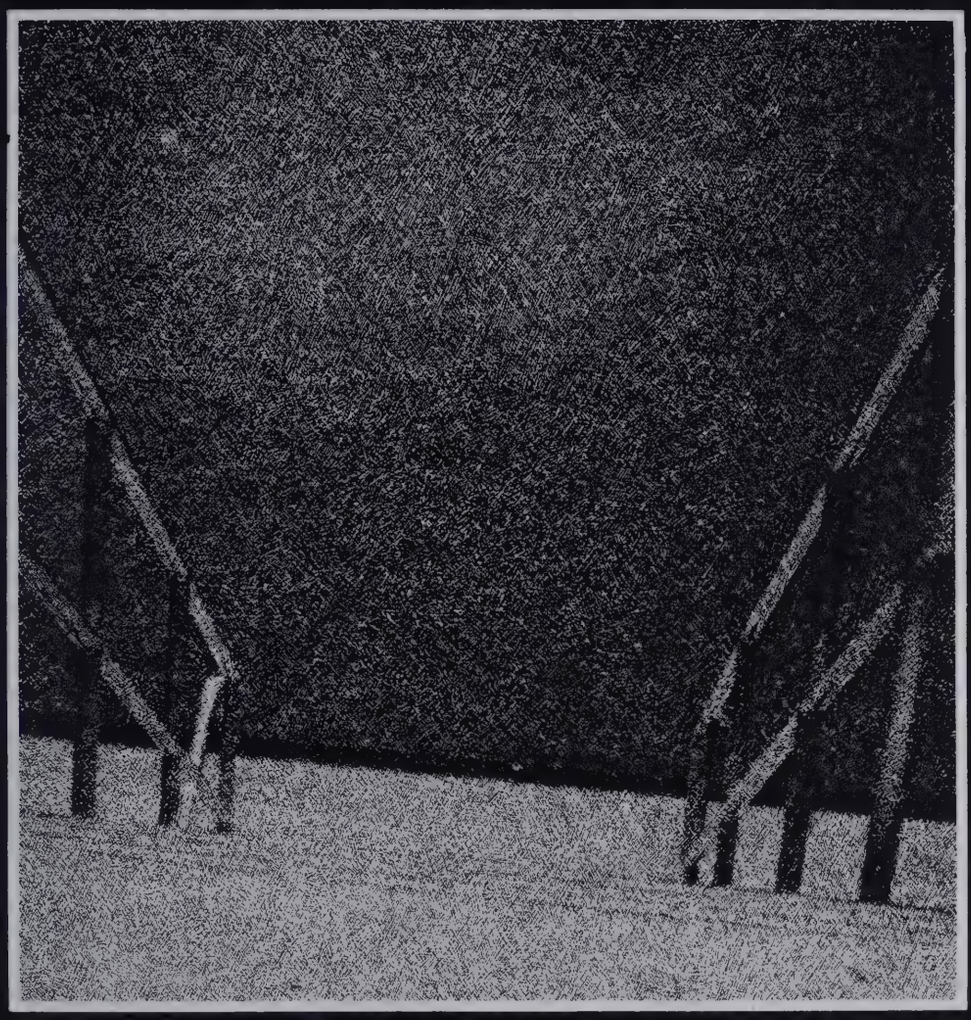
Some prizes I get sometimes aren't gift wrapped. But, they're something I've worked for, and really want . . . an A on my Econ final . . . a Scholarship . . . permission to do something I couldn't do before . . . staying out past midnight . . . the lasting memory of friends and the love for a special person. But I've found that the best prizes in life are shared . . . being a state ranked football team . . . the best musical ever . . . the Cross Country Team going to State . . . the blizzard that kept us out of school . . . playing basketball in the final Regional game . . . Prom '74 . . . winning the Track Conference and Baseball Sectional crown plus sharing the NEIAC title . . . the final time our class stood together . . . Senior week . . . the tears of sorrow and happiness after receiving our diplomas.

All these moments combine to make up many prizes of life. But I'm sure that there are even bigger and better prizes awaiting in the future.

And So Farewell . . .







After high school
who knows what will happen to me?
Mom and Dad say college
but I'm not sure
I'm ready for the big life yet.
My next door neighbor guaranteed me a job at his factory with good pay, but how long will I want to stuff
pickle jars?
I'm not going to be a nine-to-five-businessman-working-downtown-coming-home to-the-wife-and-family-everyday type of person,
not for a while at least . . .
I don't know. Maybe I'll roam the countryside, or maybe I'll become a doctor
Anyway, I'm free for at least one summer.
And I'm going to enjoy it. Then I'll just take life as it comes and I'll start calling the shots in the game.
But life continues and competition gets tougher . . . I'll be facing veterans who really know what it's all about.
I've got to keep on my toes though.
For I've always been told "there's a big bad world out there waiting to get you." But for those of us who want to win there will be

A TIME FOR EVERYTHING

To live

At a time when education and success are said to go hand in hand,
DeKalb has become our step to tomorrow.
Life, we've learned, means more than existance.

We have experienced emotional frenzy — screaming at the team to win and the sobbing with uncontrollable joy as eager hands clutch the sectional trophy.

We have learned to spend our time in a white world devoid of shadow, searching out tiny fragments of meaning in textbooks and paperback novels.

We are childish adults, but mature children,
shouting for independence yet desperately in need of security seeking purpose and identity in life.
